Bagworth Heath Results 14/07/02

Planner's Comments

This maturing area is being extended and existing trees are growing steadily. The new areas used for the first time at this event have allowed for longer courses without second masters. Whilst courses were on the short side on paper they were distinctly challenging on the ground when allowance was made for the climb as an equivalent of extra yardage. The area will be even better when new extensions become available over the next few years.

The one difficulty from a planner's point of view is that the roads cut the area into distinct blocks giving some pinch points and it is particularly difficult to get a good white in if we wish to avoid deep water and road crossings. Numbers are usually low for mid summer events but we had a much better turn out than anticipated and those who attended will I am sure have felt suitable stretched and the average times taken seem to reflect this.

Next time the club use the area it should be in the main orienteering season to introduce more runners to this rapidly improving area and avoid having to tackle grassy areas as much as five foot high. Unfortunately a couple of competitors had asthma or hay fever attacks so severe that they had to give up.

We did put on a full range of courses from string to brown including a red and it was pleasing to see a number of members of local running clubs having a go at the red.

Apologies are due to some competitors whose eyesight is not what it was. Using computer produced master maps does prevent copying errors creeping in and allows for late alterations but the maps do not have the absolute clarity of the commercially printed maps and some had some difficulty transferring controls onto their maps.

A glorious sunny day and more than expected numbers from clubs far and wide made for a very enjoyable event if a rather arduous one and the courses and new map seemed well received.

Thanks are due to the other event officials and helpers for their contributions and also to Peter Hornsby and Steve Davidson for their help in getting in the controls.

Controllers Comments

Bagworth gets better as it matures although I still find it hurts feet and ankles as it dries hard very quickly. As is often the case, white and yellow courses caused the most consternation and I hope they proved satisfactory. It does seem extreme to organise the full colour spectrum when a low number of competitors are anticipated - and arrived. Something for the committee to consider in the future

The winning times on the Brown course were on the short side. However, 2nd master maps and another circuit in the heat was not a satisfactory alternative. I hope you feel the same. In God's country the sun shines - at least that is how it was for the event. Thanks for the excuse to go and run around the area, even if it was to search for Roy's taped sites.

Geraldine and Vernon took the organising in their stride and made everything much easier, supported by a great bunch of club members.

Organiser's Comments

Don't worry we were told, it'll only be a low key event with about 70 entrants - this was our first event as organisers, having previously done little more than help at club events. On the day the English summer finally arrived, temperatures soared and the entrants rolled in - twice as many as the same event last year. Luckily supplies of control descriptions just about held out and everybody, hopefully, enjoyed their run. Any fears we may have had of problems on the day were completely misfounded - due wholly to the support we had from the willing band of helpers who turned out and gave so freely and willingly of their time and expertise. Our particular thanks are due to Sue and Roy, and also to Andy who guided us through our first event as organisers with an air of unflappable good humour. Our thanks once again to all.

Geraldine & Vernon Davis
