Beacon Hill 2003 Christmas Novelty Event

Planners / Organisers comments

The event was arranged to be a pre-Christmas event for LEI club members but was opened up to all comers after the date was moved from earlier in the month. The planning and organisation were to be undertaken by last year's event winners alone (Roger Cole and myself). Organisationally we were obviously overwhelmed by the numbers.

Traditionally the event has some novelty such as all of the controls being in the wrong place, e.g. north end instead of south end. The score novelty was too complicated so that a number of competitors visited many controls but did not copy down the high scoring letter or punched at the dummy controls. The scheme was a sliding scale plus a 100 points bonus for visiting control 27 (33 on the map) in the first five minutes; all those doing well went to this control. Controls 28 to 32 were all dummy controls on the other two courses. As there was some confusion no penalty points were applied.

The weather although cold was bright and sunny so hopefully you had a reasonable day out.

No lost property was handed in.
